A Pleasant Reflection

—the fact that easy washing has been made safe. Until Pearline came, it was dangerous. Pearline takes away the danger as it takes away the work. There is no scouring and scrubbing, to wear things out; there is no trouble in keeping things clean. Pearline is better than soap. With soap, you need hard work; for easy work, you need Pearline.

Third District—ROBERT C. PENNY.
Fourth District—RODNEY C. PENNY.

Second District—CHARLES A. BOUTELLE.

Republican Enthusiasm.

If there was any doubt as to the enthusiastic spirit that prevails in the ranks of the Republican party of Maine, Wednesday's convention most effectually dispelled it. There was no contest to stimulate the interest of the people, the State convention being simply for the purpose of selecting Electors and Delegates-at-Large to the National Convention, positions for which there was no rivalry. It being generally conceded that the gentlemen upon whom the choice fell were to have no opposition. Under these circumstances it would not have been surprising if the attendance had been small, but such was not the case. Out of a possible 1,461 delegates 1,084 were present, representing every section of the State. It was a thoroughly representative gathering, comprising as it did the leading men of the party, and the business of the convention was disposed of in a way to show that the Republicans are in this fight to win an old fashioned victory.

The speeches of Chairman Savage, Gen. Cleaves and Congressman Milliken were characterized by an earnest eloquence that touched a responsive chord in the large audience. The grand principles of the Republicans party—protection for American labor and American industry, an honest ballot and a fair count; and an honest dollar for the people, formed the keynote of the speeches and the convention applauded the sentiments in a manner to leave no doubt in the minds of those present as to the enthusiasm with which the Republicans will march under the old banner in the campaign this fall.

All of the business of the convention was transacted by acclamation, the utmost harmony prevailing throughout the proceedings. The two Electors-at-large represent the Eastern and the Western portions of the State and were excellent selections. The Delegates-at-Large were taken from the four districts, as given in THE WHIZ Wednesday morning, and they will ably and faithfully represent Maine in the National Convention. The declaration of principles in the platform have the ringing to them and will be cordially approved by the people. In the judgment of the Administration the committee rather overstepped the bounds in recommending the renomination of President Harrison. No Republican would wish to withhold one word of praise from the admirable administration of the President, whose efforts have been so ably sustained by Secretary Blaine, but the closing portion of the resolution had the appearance of a partial instruction to the delegates.

There was no call for such action upon the part of the convention and when this resolution was reached the committee was asked to explain its intent. Assurance was given that there was no intention on the part of the committee to bind the delegation to the fortunes of any one man and the entire platform was then adopted. Under the circumstances it would have been better to have eliminated that portion of the resolution, as it really had no effect other than to give a wrong impression. If in the judgment of the Minneapolis convention President Harrison should once more lead the Republican hosts he will find no more loyal supporters than in Maine, but until the delegates from all over the country have had an opportunity to confer as to what is for the best interest of the party, the delegation should be entirely unhampered and they will act with this understanding.

The District Convention.

The convention of City Hall Wednesday afternoon was a splendid gathering of the representative Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District. Every county sent a large delegation and the utmost good feeling and enthusiasm marked the deliberation of the convention, which was an excellent forerunner of a grand victory in September. Col. Peaks made a model presiding officer, handling the business of the session in an easy and expeditious manner, while his opening speech, in which he gave an artistic word picture of modern Democracy, could not have been improved upon.

Dr. D. A. Robinson, in one of the best five minute speeches I have heard held in City Hall in a long time, presented the name of Mr. Boutelle as a candidate for Congress and moved that the nomination be made by acclamation. The motion was seconded in brief, but eloquent words by Hon. Austin Harris, for Washington; Dr. E. A. Thompson, for Piscataquis and Col. C. P. Allen, for Aroostook. A rising vote was taken and the motion was unanimously carried.

Piscataquis then presented Hon. Rodney C. Penny, for Elector; Aroostook the names of Hon. Thomas H. Blair for delegate to the National Convention, with Col. C. P. Allen as alternate; Washington the names of Hon. C. A. McCollough as delegate, and Nelson S. Albin, Esq., as alternate, all good and true Republicans, who were elected by acclamation. The platform which was presented by Judge Smith, is an earnest declaration of Republican principles and was unanimously adopted.

In behalf of Mr. Boutelle, who was unable to attend the convention, we desire to express his appreciation on the high honor that has again been bestowed upon him in an unanimous renomination by a sterling constituency.

Congressman Milliken.

Congressman Milliken, who was in the city yesterday, addressed the State Convention, thus affording a rich treat as he is one of the best of public speakers. The reception that was accorded him by the large gathering of the leading Republicans of the State must have been exceedingly gratifying, as it was an eloquent testimonial of the appreciation by the Republican party of his valuable services as a member of the Maine delegation in the House. The applause continued for some minutes, breaking out afresh as the speaker attempted to express his thanks for this most cordial greeting. Mr. Milliken's speech, a summary of which will be found in another column, will at the review of the issues that will enter into the campaign, and at the close he was warmly congratulated by a large number of the delegates.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Palmer & Co.,

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Whip and Courier for the Coming Campaign.

Fifty Cents a Month during the Presidential Contest.

The Only Republican Daily in Eastern Maine.

This is to be an important year politically. Questions of grave moment to the people are to be discussed in the press and upon the stump, weighed in the public mind and settled at the polls in the fall. The newspaper is the best possible medium through which the people can keep themselves in touch with the drift of current events.

The Chairman of the Republican National Committee has urged upon the people the great importance of giving the widest circulation to the Republican papers. In order to carry out the idea of getting a Republican daily paper in the hands of the greatest number of people, THE WHIZ proposes to issue a campaign edition. Heretofore the offer has been delayed till later in the season, but as the campaign will open early this year, the National Convention meeting in Minneapolis the first of June, we make the following offer now:

THE WHIZ and COURIER WILL BE MAILED TO EACH NEW SUBSCRIBER IN ANY PART OF THE STATE, POSTAGE PAID, FOR FIFTY CENTS A MONTH FROM NOW UNTIL THE CLOSE OF THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN IN NOVEMBER, PAYABLE STRICTLY IN ADVANCE. Beginning with May and including November the reader will by the terms of this offer get a daily paper for seven months for the small sum of $3.50.

THE WHIZ is the only Republican daily in Eastern Maine and publishes the Associated Press despatches. It has full control of the service of this great organization for the gathering of news from the four corners of the earth, an organization that is now recognized as one of the wonders of the age. It reaches everywhere and brings to its patrons free each morning the news of the world. Papers that cannot obtain this service sometimes make an unusual attempt to criticize it. A few years ago a Boston daily was of this class, but one day it saw an opportunity to obtain the valuable franchise and it illustrated the insincerity of its former criticism by very promptly making sure of it.

This great service will be especially valuable the present year. From the time the National Convention meets to select the standard bearer to end the Republican hosts to victory, to the counting of the last vote, every event of interest to the people will be faithfully reported and sent broad cast among the readers of THE WHIZ. Every feature of the great campaign which is to settle the political control of the country for the next four years, will be of interest to the people who will thus be able to keep thoroughly informed as to the progress of the contest in the various States.

In addition to the political news and discussions, all of the current news of the day will be found in the columns of THE WHIZ. After reading the more weighty matters the people like to turn to the lighter news. It will all be found in THE WHIZ, whose columns are carefully edited to weed out the purely sensational and worthless matter, thus making it an indispensable visitor in the family circle.

We most respectfully request the assistance of the members of the City and Town Committees in this work of clearing Republican reading. In no way can the work of the campaign be more successfully augmented than by getting a Republican paper into the hands of the voters. It tends to arouse the interest of the people, strengthens the party organization, aids materially in bringing out the full vote and in other ways lessens the labors of the members of the committee.

All subscriptions should be directed to BOUTELLE BROTHERS, BANGOR, MAINE, giving in full the address to which the paper is to be sent and it will be forwarded at once.
